ENL2022 Section 1813: Survey of English Literature 1750 – Present

Meeting Time/Place: MWF Period 5/MAT 0114
Instructor: Mandi Reed (mandijreed@ufl.edu)
Office Hours: W 3 – 4 (TUR 4409)

Course Description and Goals

Welcome! ENL 2022 invites you to engage with texts and authors from the latter half of the varied, rich, and expansive history of British literature. Beginning with the Romantic Period (1785 – 1830) and continuing through the Victorian Age (1830 – 1901) and the Twentieth century, we will explore a broad range of texts in relation to their historical contexts and explore the major formal, philosophical, cultural, and aesthetic characteristics of this vast body of work. Students of ENL 2022 will read poetry, short fiction, essays, and novels spanning the eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth centuries.

The goals of this course are, first and foremost, to deepen our understanding of the authors and texts that constitute British literature, considering how they interact with and are shaped by the cultural contexts in which they were written. Secondly, we will hone our skills of analysis as we read critically, respond thoughtfully, and seek insight through various critical lenses. We will also write about a variety of texts. Students will communicate their analyses and interpretations of the literature through close-readings, class discussions, and critical essays.

This is a General Education course providing student learning outcomes listed in the Undergraduate Catalog. For more information, see https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/general-education-requirement.aspx

List of Assignments

10 Response Papers (200 words each, 200 points total)
Throughout the semester, you will be expected to write and submit 10 brief papers that respond to a reading of your choice. These papers should analyze the readings and address larger concerns brought to mind by the source material. To receive credit, response papers must be submitted prior to the class period in which we will discuss the primary text. If you are late to class, you should not expect that your paper will be accepted. Please note: The last day to submit response papers is Friday, April 8.

Essay 1: Close-Reading/Analysis (1,000 words, 200 points)
This essay will be a close reading of any text on our syllabus that appears on or before the end of Week 6. Your close reading and analysis should take the form of an academic argument; as such, your thesis should be thoughtful, original, and clear. For this essay, all evidence needed to support your thesis should come from the primary text. No outside sources are permitted in this paper.

Essay 2: Researched Critical Essay (3,000 words, 400 points)
This essay will be a formally researched, original, and critical analysis in which you examine one or more of the literary text(s) we have read this semester through a particular theoretical, historical, or critical lens. As in Essay 1, this paper should take the form of an academic argument and include an insightful and original thesis. In addition, you must support your thesis with textual evidence and scholarly research.

Attendance/Daily Participation (200 points)
The majority of our time in class will be spent reading, analyzing, and discussing the assigned texts and learning in workshops on writing and researching. For these reasons, daily and engaged participation is a priority in this course. In other words, in this class we will learn from the collective, and active participation (or lack thereof) will directly affect your grade. All students should participate every day in some fashion, whether through offering points of view, raising questions, asking for clarification, and/or writing when it is required. Participation points may also be awarded in the form of reading quizzes.

Grading Rubric
Each assignment has its own requirements, but for each paper I will evaluate:
1. content, including argument, development, and support
2. organization, including paragraph structure, overall flow of ideas, transitions
3. mechanics, including grammar, spelling, and style.

A PAPER
An A-paper has a strong thesis and makes a coherent and original argument. It follows the assignment, is well organized, communicates ideas clearly, and there are (almost) no mechanics mistakes. It meets and/or exceeds the assignment requirements.
B PAPER
A B-paper does the same things as an A-paper, but is somewhat lacking in one area: perhaps organization is lacking (either on the paragraph level or in the essay as a whole), the writer provided insufficient evidence or analysis of the evidence, or there are myriad mechanics mistakes.

C PAPER
The C-paper follows the assignment, but is lacking in two of the areas mentioned above (content, organization, mechanics). Usually, a C-paper also needs to try and move beyond a superficial engagement with the text.

D PAPER
The D-paper either does not follow the assignment, is lacking in all three areas, or both.

E PAPER
The E-paper is reserved for essays that are not turned in, or for work that is plagiarized.

Course Policies

Participation and Attendance

As stated above, regular attendance and active participation are crucial to your success in this course. Class participation includes contributing to class discussions; coming to class on time, prepared with books and homework; preparing for in-class activities; collaborating and participating in group activities; and overall working and paying close attention to the lectures and activities of the classroom. In general, students are expected to contribute constructively to each class session. Please note: if you are observed texting, accessing social media sites, doing work for a different course, or otherwise engaging in any behavior not directly related to class discussion, participation points will be deducted from your grade without warning or notice.

In this course we will follow a strict attendance policy. If you miss more than six periods during the term, you will fail the entire course. The university exempts from this policy only those absences involving university-sponsored events, such as athletics and band, and religious holidays. Absences related to university-sponsored events must be discussed with me prior to the date that will be missed. Absences, even for extraordinary reasons will result in missing work that cannot be made up; therefore, absences will have a negative impact on grades.
Please Note: If you are absent, it is your responsibility to make yourself aware of all due dates and required work. If absent due to a scheduled event, you are still responsible for turning assignments in on time.

Tardiness: Being late is disruptive, so try to always be on time. Three incidents of tardiness will count as one absence. Moreover, if you are late on the day an assignment is due, the instructor reserves the right to consider your assignment late and therefore subject to the late-work policy.

Classroom Conduct
Keep in mind that UF students come from diverse cultural, economic, and ethnic backgrounds. Some of the texts we will discuss and write about engage controversial topics and opinions. Diversified student backgrounds combined with provocative texts require that you demonstrate respect for ideas that may differ from your own.
Disrespectful behavior will result in dismissal, and accordingly absence, from the class.
Any use of electronic devices not related to classroom learning: phones, tablets, iPods, etc. are disruptive and will not be tolerated. Please turn them off and keep them out of sight.

Assignment Maintenance Responsibilities
You are responsible for maintaining copies of all work submitted in this course and retaining all returned, marked work until the semester is over. Should the need arise for a resubmission of papers or a review of marked papers, it is your responsibility to have and to make available this material.

Late Work Policy and Mode of Submission
I do not accept late work. All papers will be submitted as MS Word (.doc or .docx) documents to E-learning/Canvas before class as well as a stapled hard copy on the designated due date. I may consider extenuating circumstances, but you must contact me at least twenty-four hours before the assignment is due.

All assignments and postings should be polished and presented in a professional manner.
All papers must be in 12-point Times New Roman font, single-spaced with 1-inch margins and numbered pages. Format your assignments according to MLA standards.

Final Grade Appeals
Students may appeal a final grade by filling out a form available from Carla Blount, Program Assistant in Department of English. Grade appeals may result in a higher, unchanged, or lower final grade.
