

THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA CENTER FOR THE HUMANITIES AND THE PUBLIC SPHERE PRESENTS

An extended conversation about how elements of representation, regulation, consumption, identity, and production of black culture contribute to the broadening of gender and sexuality studies...

Black Cultural Interventions Into Gender & Sexuality Studies

KEYNOTES

The Lateral Moves of African American Studies in a Period of Migration

Roderick A. Ferguson, University of Minnesota (March 23, 11:40 am, B74/75 Reitz Union)

Looking for Marquise: Queer Temporality, Black Political Possibility, and Poetry from the Future

Kara Keeling, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (March 24, 10:20 am, B74/75 Reitz Union)

On Erotic Maroonage: Sex, Empire and Black Radical Tradition

Greg Thomas, Syracuse University (March 24, 2 pm, B74/75 Reitz Union)

Panels & Workshops 9 am–6 pm @ JWRU

March 23–24, 2007

See www.clas.ufl.edu/users/stalling/conference2007.html for rooms and times.

Co-Sponsors: Office of the President, Provost's Office, African American Studies, Center for Women's Studies and Gender Research, Graduate Office of Research, Institute of Black Culture, Multicultural Affairs, LGBT Affairs, Department of English, Black Graduate Student Organization, College of Fine Arts